Re: Results Day, University Applications & Beyond

Dear parent(s) and carer(s)

As we approach A Level Results' Day, I wanted to provide all parents/carer and students with a university application the latest information.

We sent a detailed letter home on 6th May with a huge amount of information – please click here to refresh your memory with this key information.

Upon receiving their results, all student will receive an update to date 'Results Day: What Next?' booklet – if you would like to read this year's pack in advance – please click here.

Additionally, UCAS have produced a detailed 'Results' Day' Checklist – I would strongly encourage your son/daughter to read this in advance. A Level Results' Day is a hugely emotional day, and if the results don't quite go to plan, it can be very useful to think through, in advance, the various options available. The checklist also gives some practical advice of what students should bring with them on the day.

I do hope these resources are useful to you; particularly if this is your first time experiencing A Level Results' Day. All of these resources have been shared with your son/daughter on Google Classroom.

One final reminder – if your son/daughter has had a massive change of heart and wishes to change their university course now, or indeed apply to university for the first time, before the publication of A Level results – then 'Clearing' actually opens in the next week (the first week in July). Whilst this is only likely to affect 1-2 students – I wanted to flag it to all parents/carers; in reality most students use Clearing on Results Day.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to get in contact.

Yours sincerely
